[COMMUNICATED. THE PARSON'S LIMIT.

THE PARSON'S LIMIT.

He'd been preaching and exhorting
For a score of years or so,
In a portion of the vineyard
Where the havesting was s'ow;
Where the temporal inducement
For his ceaseless dilig nee
Was a premiss of four hundred
For his yearly recompense.

Unrelenting was the arder
And devoted to the cause,
And though slowly came the dollars
Still he labored without pause;
Till one day they came and teld him,
As he kirked sgainst the pricks,
That they'd raised their officed stipend
From four hundred up to six.

Thom four hungred up to six.

Then the good man sank exhausted,
As be feebly made reply:

"Don't, I pray you, men and brethren,
Thus my patience overtry;
For to glean the four you've promised
Has so warped my vitel store
That 'twould kill me if you taxed me
To collect two hundred mere."

BURIAL OF A LIVING BABY .- Francesca Spinello, who is in jail at White Plains, N. Y., with Givio Buttacavalia, her uncle, the two having been arrested after an alleged attempt to bury a baby while it was yet allve made a confession yesterday. The girl said her uncle was the father of the child which she had borne. She said further that her uncle came to her home in New York and told her to take the baby and come with him for a walk. He took her to Hastings, and when the ravine was reached he wanted to kill the baby with his hatchet, but she prevented his doing that, begging that it be not harmed in that manner. He finally relented and the baby was buried. They had just begun to cover it up when she neard a noise behind her, and looking around Jaw McEvoy, a laborer, who rezoued the baby. She spoke to her uncle and they fled. After running a little distance she wanted to go back and get the baby, but her uncle threatened to kill her if she returned. She did not dare disobey him. She was glad, she said, the baby was alive, and wished it was with her so she could care for it. after an alleged attempt to bury a baby

WAS ALIVE IN HER COFFIN .-- Mrs. Frank Marlow came to life while lying in a coffin in a room where the funeral services were being held at her home, services were being held at her home, at Merrimac, near Huntsville, Ala., last Friday. The room was full of friends and the preacher was about to begin his remarks when the supposed corpse, which was lying in plain few of the mourners, gasped and drew a long breath. It was found that the body was warm and that there was a feeble pulse. A physician was sent for and pulse. A physician was sent for and for more than an hour Mrs. Marlow's relatives and friends believed that she would live. She regained consciousness, but died in a short time. The services were continued and the body was interred in Maple Hill Cemetery. Mrs. Marlow died of colic.

Spring coughs are specially daugerous and unless cured at once, serious results often follow. One Minute Cough Cure acts like magic. It is not a common mixture but is a high grade remedy.
